FROM MAY 25. TO JUNE 1. 1738.

In the Political State of Great-Britain, for the Month of January, 1738, we have the Opinion of the Board of Trade, in their Report made to his late Majesty, touching our Right to cut Logwood in the Bay of Campechy.

THEIR Honours having in their Report laid before his Majesty the past and present State of this Trade, with the Arguments that formerly engag'd his Majesty's Royal Predecessors to protect the same, conclude as follows:

Upon the Whole therefore, we are humbly of Opinion,

That the Subjects of these your Majesty's Kingdoms for some Years before, as well as after the Conclusion of the American Treaty in 1670, did enjoy an uninterrupted Liberty of cutting Logwood in the Laguna de Terminos, and other Parts not inhabited by the Spaniards, in the Province of Jacatan, either thro' Right of Sufferance or Indulgence.

That the said American Treaty did establish a Right in the Crown of Great-Britain to the Laguna de Terminos, and the Parts adjacent; those Places at the Time of the Treaty, and for some Years before, being actually in Possession of the British Subjects.

That the Royal Schedula issued out of the Court of Spain, was a Violation of the aforesaid Treaty, forasmuch as the carrying on the Trade to the Laguna de Terminos was thereby interpreted an Invasion, and Log-wood Cutters accounted Pirates.

And that your Majesty's Subjects having been (at least) suffer'd to enjoy the Liberty of cutting Logwood, as aforesaid, before the Conclusion of the American Treaty, (altho' your Majesty should not insist on your said Right to the Laguna de Terminos,) yet that the same Liberty is absolutely granted and confirmed by the Treaty of Commerce at Utrecht.

And we do further think it our Duty to represent to your Majesty, that altho' the Spanish Ambassador seems to declare in his Memorial, that no Attempt should be made to dislodge your Subjects settled on the Laguna de Terminos, in less Time than Eight Months from the Date of the said Memorial, yet they were dislodg'd and taken Prisoners in the same Month the Memorial was deliver'd, as appears by several Affidavits sent to this Board by General Hamilton, your Majesty's Governor of the Leeward-Islands; all which is most humbly submitted.

Sign'd Whitehall, Sept. 25, 1717. J. Molsworth, D. Pultney, M. Bladen, Suffolk, J. Chetwynd, Charles Cooke.

LEGHORNE, Feb. 10. The Captain of a Felucca arrived this Morning from Bastia, says, that a Part of the Inhabitants of the Province of Nebbio in the Island of Corsica, who had all along observ'd a strict Neutrality, have now taken Arms in Favour of Lord Theodore, and prevail'd upon those of Cape Corse to do the like; that the latter had thereupon refused to pay the Tax to the Genoese, and sent Advice to the Malecontents that they had declared in their Favour; the Captain adds, that 10 or 12,000 Corsicans were in Motion in the Neighbourhood of Bastia, that as many were in the Provinces of Balagna and Nebbi, 10,000 near Ajaccio, and 7000 in the Neighbourhood of Porto Vecchio and St. Bonniface; and that tho' five armed Barks and several Genoese Felucca's were always cruizing on the Coasts of that Island, yet Baron Neuhoff had found Means for these two Months past, to land there at seven different times, considerable Quantities of Ammunition and Arms of all Sorts.

EDINBURGH, Feb. 16. Near 100 Recruits, bound for the Dutch Service, now in Canongate Prison, have lately made several Attempts to break out; but being disappointed, they turn'd last Friday so mutinous that Four of the Ringleaders were carried down to a Dungeon below the Guard; which so exasperated the rest, that they seized one of the Officers, and the Turnkey, whom they clapp'd in close Custody, and barricading the Prison Door, bid Defiance to all Authority; at the same Time they intimated, that if their Four Comrades were not instantly delivered up to them, they'd send the Officer and Jailor to where the D---l sent his Mother; so that their Demand was of Necessity complied with. The Posts round the Prison have been doubled with Centinels; and as they will allow no Body access to them, so not one Mouthful of Provisions is suffered to be sent in. It was at first proposed to storm the Garrison in Form; but on second Thoughts, it was carried to Starve them into surrender. Accordingly Yesternight, their Magazines being exhausted, they beat the Chamade, and put out the White-Flag; upon which their Officers, with some of General Wetham's, enter'd into a Capitulation with them; and a general Amnesty (which they insisted on as a Preliminary) being granted, they delivered up the Outer Gate to a Sergeant's Command of General Wetham's Regiment, who are now in full Possession of the Place. 'Tis said, they threaten'd in Noncompliance with their Articles, to fall instantly about eating the Turnkey.

LONDON, Feb. 27. Yesterday Richardson the Pirate was carried from Newgate at 7 o'Clock in the Morning, and executed about Nine. As his Crime was great, so was his Penitence, his Behaviour at the Place of Execution greatly affecting all the People; he acknowledg'd the Fact, and the Justice of the Sentence; and addressing himself to several Commanders of Ships who were present, exhorted them not to be too familiar with the Seamen, for that they, in general, were too apt to let them into their Affairs, which was often the Occasion of Michiefs of this Sort; for on the first Disgust or Misfortune at Sea, the Men were inclin'd to think themselves on a Par with their Commanders, and take the first Opportunity of proving themselves their Masters. He pray'd sometime with the Ordinary, but died a Roman Catholick as appear'd by Beads and a Cross found in his Pocket after he was cut down; his Body was put into a Boat, in order to its being hang'd up in Chains at Grays on Essex Shoar.

Feburary

Feburary 28. By laſt Advices from Baſtia, we learn, that the 3 Batallions of French Troops lately landed in Corſica, begin to be tir'd of their Quarters already, being oblig'd to take up with ſuch as are aſſign'd them in the Convents, without being permitted to walk on the Ramparts of that City: That the French General demands one of the Republick's ſtrong Places, for the Safety of his Forces, which the Regency had refuſed to grant, nor will they ſuffer a Frenchman to enter their Citadel. That 7 French Officers were already dead, thro' the Fatigues they ſuffer'd on the Sea: That then they had been in want of Freſh Water, Fleſh, Meal, and Pot-herbs, for 3 Days together, which raiſed great Murmurings among the French.

Yeſterday a Petition of Sir William Maurice, Bart, was preſented to the Houſe of Lords, and read, praying Leave to bring in a Bill, to diſſolve his Marriage with the Lady Lucy Wharton; and to enable him to marry again;

Ordered, That Leave be given, to bring in a Bill, as deſired.

A Bill for puniſhing Mutiny and Deſertion, was brought from the Commons, and read the firſt Time: Ordered, to be read a ſecond Time this Day Se'nnight; and the Lords to be ſummoned.

LONDON, March 7. They write from Amſterdam, that the States-General have receiv'd Letters from their reſpective Conſuls at Algiers, Tunis and Tripoli, which informs them, that the Regencies of theſe Places ſhew but little Diſpoſition to maintain Peace with their High Mightineſſes: That lately they have heavily oppreſs'd the Captains and Crews of Dutch Ships which have put into theſe Ports: That the Complaints that have been made of theſe Proceedings to the ſeveral Regencies of the above Places have made no Impreſſion; and there is great Reaſon to fear that Steps ſo diſagreeable to the Republick will be follow'd by ſuch as will be ſtill more ſo. Their High-Mightineſſes Conſul at Algiers takes Notice particularly, that having demanded an Audience of the Dey upon this Subject, and then complaining of a Conduct ſo little conformable to the Treaties which ſubſiſt between the Regency of Algiers and the Republick of the United Provinces, the Dey anſwered him very frankly in the following Terms: All that you have ſaid in this Affair would be very good, if the Conſtitution of our State was other than it is. You know perfectly well that we could not ſupport our ſelves were it not for the Prizes which we take from the Chriſtian Nations. It is now more than two Years ſince we made any Captures of Conſequence, we muſt therefore make ourſelves amends by acting in another Manner. In ſhort, we have been at Peace with you ſo long, that all our Privateers are weary of it, and well they may, becauſe we are at Peace with Great Britain, France and Sweden; too many at one Time; we muſt break with ſome of you. The Conſul exclaim'd greatly againſt ſuch a Procedure, and ſaid, that the States-General deſerv'd by no means to be treated in this ſort, ſince ſo great Preſents were made by them to the Algerines. To which the Dey reply'd, Pray don't upbraid us with your Preſents, which are not half ſo valuable as thoſe made us by the other Nations with whom we are at Peace. But ſince you talk of Preſents, Pray where are the Pieces of Scarlet and blue Cloth you promis'd me, and where are the four Maſts that your Maſters were to ſend me? The Conſul reply'd, that he did not doubt but the Particulars mention'd by the Dey were intended to be ſent, and that it was certainly owing to Forgetfulneſs that he had not receiv'd them before. And for my Part, ſaid the Dey, I likewiſe forget that there is any ſuch Thing as a Treaty ſubſiſting between us. The Relation of this whimſical Conference gives much Uneaſineſs to the Dutch Merchants, and their Highneſſes are in Deliberation, whether it will be moſt prudent to ſhew their Teeth to the Barbarians by ſending a good Squadron into the Mediterranean, or to ſatisfy their Avidity, by ſending Preſents to the Regency.

March 8. On Sunday laſt in the Evening ſeveral Ladies had the Tails of their Gowns cut off by ſome Rogues, in the Blue Coat Hoſpital; one Lady loſt her Pocket, in which was about 5 l. and another about 20 Shillings, and a fine Snuff-Box; a Gentleman had alſo the Skirt of his Coat cut off; and ſome other Villanies of the like kind were done to others.

On Saturday laſt a threatning Letter, demanding a Sum of Money to be left in a certain Place, with the uſual Threats and Imprecations, was brought by a Fellow to an eminent Apothecary in Drury-Lane; the Fellow ſtaid in the Shop till the Letter was read, on which he was immediately ſeiz'd; at that Inſtant two other Fellows ruſh'd into the Shop; and pretending to be Bailiffs, arreſted the Man, who brought the Letter, and would have forced him out of the Shop, but after a long ſtruggle they were all three ſecured, and being carried before a Magiſtrate they were all committed to Newgate.

They write from Toulon, that 4 Men of War were equipping there, two of which were deſign'd to cruize in the American Seas, and the other two were to carry an Ambaſſador extraordinary to Conſtantinple, in order to render effectual the Mediation of his moſt Chriſtian Majeſty for an Accommodation between Ruſſia, the Emperor, and the Porte.

March 8. They write from Warſaw, that 150000 Tartars under the Command of the old Kan, were in march to invade the Ukraine, which Expedition is deſign'd not only to ravage Part of that Province, but to favour the Siege of Oczakow, which is again reſolv'd on by the Turks, notwithſtanding their late bad Succeſs. The Tartars have with them a large Field Train of Artillery. The Ruſſian Troops being warn'd of the Deſigns of the Tartars, hold themſelves in readineſs let what will happen.

SIR, May 18. 1738.

I Doubt not but you have heard of the ſevere Plague of Canker-Worms, that are at this Time devouring the Wheat all over the Country. A compleat Remedy for ſo great an Evil, is hardly to be hop'd for: But I have try'd one Thing, upon the Experience of a Gentleman of Gloceſter County, with good Succeſs. I have order'd a ſmall Trench, a Spit deep, and a Foot wide, to be dug all round the Field, very near the Edge of the Wheat. The Sides of the Trench are ſo perpendicular, that when thoſe Worms are in, they can't get out again. It is amazing how many of them fall into this Trench, ſome marching towards the Wheat, and ſome out of it. I ſent a good Number of Turkies to devour them in the Trench, but tho' they fill'd their Bellies, yet they left Millions.

It may perhaps be of Service to the Country, to inſert this into your Gazette: I ſhou'd have communicated it ſooner, but that I have lately convinc'd my ſelf of its Succeſs. You will, I hope, make Amends, by diſperſing this Gazette with the utmoſt Expedition all over the Country. I am,

Your humble Servant,

PHILO-PATRIS.

An Attempt towards an EPITAPH on Her late moſt Excellent Majeſty Queen CAROLINE.

NO more, ye Fair, of withering Charms complain,
Nor grieve ye Great, at Death's deſpotic Reign;
Since CAROLINE the graceful and the Great
Is fallen to Earth from her exalted Seat.
But rather learn from her to ſeek and find
The Charms and Grandeurs of a godlike Mind.
From humble Duſt ſhe ſpeaks her living Care:
Ye Mighty liſten, and attend ye Fair!
" Be Wiſdom, as divinely charming, lov'd;
" No Greatneſs like to Vertue, be approv'd.
" True Wiſdom brings to Wealth and Honours high,
" And Vertue only cannot know to die.
" Let theſe, till found, Your Search and Study be,
" Thus will you live, and thus expire like me.

That on the 7th of May paſt, at Night, Deborah, the Wife of Nehemiah Nickerſon, and Grandaughter of John Scull of the ſame Place, with a Girl about 10 Years of Age, and a Negroe Boy, attempted to come on Shore in a Canoe, from the Beach where they lived; but, as appears by all Circumſtances, they loſt themſelves in the Dark; and a great Storm happening at the ſame time, they put aſhore on a ſmall Iſland in the Marſh; where, their Cannoe driving away, they all three unhappily periſh'd.

From Cheſter we hear, that on Saturday laſt, a young Man, Servant and Clerk to the Prothonotary of that County, attempting to run away in his Maſter's Abſence, was ſeeur'd in the Workhouſe, where finding a Rope, he hanged himſelf up, and was ſoon after found dead, tho' his Feet were on the Ground, and his Knees bent.

This Morning arrived in Capt. Arthur from Antigua, The Honourable Col. GEORGE THOMAS, our Governor, with his Lady and Family, and was received with the univerſal Acclamations of the People accompanied by a general Diſcharge of Cannon from the Hill and the Ships in the Harbour.
